Marketing Practices Survey

Do you produce and sell local foods?

USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service is conducting the 2015 Local Food Marketing Practices Survey to gather data on the production and local marketing of foods directly from farmers. This information will be used to help evaluate and coordinate programs and resources in support of local food systems, including those provided by USDA's:

- Agricultural Marketing Service
- Farm Service Agency
- Food and Nutrition Service
- Risk Management Agency
- Rural Development
